The AICOG is the most important annual event on the academic calendar of the Federation of Obstetric and Gynecological Societies of India. Each year FOGSI assigns the grand responsibility of organizing the AICOG to one of its 277 constituent member societies.

The Mumbai Obstetric and Gynecological Society, a founding member with a membership of 2362, one of the largest constituents of FOGSI, has been selected to organize the 67th AICOG. We look forward to your enthusiastic participation in making this event a great academic and social success.

With over 7,000 participants, 10+ parallel halls, 100+ international faculty, and hundreds of national faculty, this conference will offer an engaging mix of lectures, symposia, social events, panel discussions, and paper presentations by experts from across India and around the world. It will feature cultural programs supported by prominent Indian artists, actors, politicians and thought leaders.

We sincerely hope you will accept our invitation and honor the conference with your presence. AICOG 2025 promises to be a truly global experience—socially, culturally, and professionally.
